WEBER MURPHY FOX CAPABILITIES STATEMENT: EDUCATION (K-12)

Education (K-12) Experience

WMF's experience is substantially deeper than most "School Specialists" because we have built a large percentage of the schools we design. This aspect of our firm influences how we schedule, estimate, buy, and administer construction contracts, and it also has a huge impact on the design and engineering solutions that we recommend. Our Integrated Project Delivery allows us to extend the design consciousness into the construction phases in a way not possible without the integrated viewpoint. Regardless of the delivery system ... "because we are builders, we are better architects and because we are architects, we are better builders".

"The timing of the phasing was amazingly close to that projected and enabled the District to spread out their debt service and also to avoid serious facility related inconveniences. Our high school renovation was done with no tax increase or increased operating costs to the annual budget. The plan developed allowed us to maintain occupancy in our facilities while the additions and renovations were completed kept our educational program running smoothly. Two of our projects were successfully done closing school at the end of May and opening in early September which many firms would not even attempt. Your personal leadership in all phases of each of the projects was invaluable in helping the Board feel comfortable, even with the inevitable public controversies."

Walter J. Blucas
Former Superintendent
Girard School District
