WEBER MURPHY FOX CAPABILITIES STATEMENT: RECREATION FACILITIES

Recreation Facilities Experience

Today's recreation centers must accommodate a wide range of users by offering a variety of venues. Whatever the interest; cardio, strength-training, flexibility, nutrition or physical therapy, a recreation center can provide different venues for each. Recreation facilities often offer its users a social connection and in most facilities there are spaces to allow users to meet, sit and talk. Often this is accompanied with a drink from the juice bar, a power bar or a piece of fresh fruit. Typically these spaces are somewhat transparent and offer the individual the opportunity to "see or be seen".

Recreation facilities can include indoor pools and high spaces for recreational activities like basketball courts. They can also include support facilities for administrative functions, locker rooms and fitness areas. Also important is wayfinding that directs the user to the spaces that they wish to use during their visit.

"WMF produced a design feasibility study that convinced lead donors to contribute over $4 million towards our new YMCA. ...WMF's design package gave our donors the confidence to invest in our project."

Jesse M. Kelley, Branch Manager
Clarion County YMCA

Glenwood Branch Expansion and Renovation

Leadership

Dennis Wilkins, AIA, LEED AP BD+C

Dennis is President of WMF. Dennis brings a unique perspective to the design and construction of recreation facilities and fitness centers. As Lead Designer and Principal-in-Charge for the majority of the firm's recreation facility portfolio he understands how to achieve the balance of cost / schedule / quality that define a project's success. As a Director of the Greater Erie YMCA he infuses the Owner's perspective into his project leadership role and his recreational facility experience and is augmented by this role.
